

Align your talent with your business

DXC Application Management Services for Cornerstone

Get the most you can from your Cornerstone OnDemand implementation.

Organizations have realized that a critical element to improving employee engagement is to make the technology used in their workplaces more engaging.

— Brandon Hall Group, 2017

Maybe you need to seek LMS or performance management innovation in new places. DXC innovation can help you:

- Engage with certified experts to put you comfortably in command of your platform
- Enrich your content to engage employees and make every learning interaction count
- Enhance your Cornerstone to deliver great experiences, put your data to work and integrate additional third-party applications without worry

As great as your learning management system (LMS) or performance management system is — even if it’s as feature-rich and robust as Cornerstone OnDemand — you’re not alone in wondering whether it could do more for you.

Cornerstone is a world-class, complex and powerful platform. It does what it’s built to do very well. You’ve purchased a comprehensive solution that provides something for everyone.

What if, in addition to all of that, you could tailor Cornerstone to meet your company’s unique business requirements, delivering maximum value from your investment?

You can. You simply need to seek out different sources of innovation for your platform. Think Salesforce. Think iPhone. Those are amazing platforms that depend on great third-party innovations to expand their value and meet unique user needs.
